

ECHOES AT THE EDGE

Free verse and a glossary that translate the physical implications of the boundary into the language of feeling: the pain of asymmetry, mourning conceived as an architecture with a hollow, and love as the geometric entanglement of two worlds.

Twenty-one poems and an intimate glossary, divided into three books: the architecture with a hollow, the coldness of a darkened city, and the last books.

from The Inner Horizon

ECHOES AT THE EDGE

LYRIC OF THE EMOTIONAL THRESHOLD

ÍÑIGO BARRERA BARCELÓ

A poetry anthology from The Inner Horizon